EPISCOPAL CONVENTION. Yesterday's Proceedings of the Fortieth A nual Convention

A resolution was offered by the Rev. Mr. Phelps to appoint a committee of fifty-one to receive the Rev. Dr. Nichols and his family on their arrival in California. The committee to consist of the Right Rev. Bishop W. I. Kip, twenty-five clergymen and twenty-five laymen. Rev. A. G. L. Trew arose to a question of privilege. He adverted to the attitude of the press on the proceedings of the Convention, and offered the following resolution as part of his remarks: WHEELAS, Certain statements have appeared in the public press to the effect that there is much suppressed ill-feeling on the part of the delegates from Southern California, with reference to the last Convention, and it is the sense of this Convention that such statements are entirely at variance with the facts; on the contrary, this Convention recognizes the harmonious spirit which is so abundantly manifest, and we deplore all attempts to sir up any sectional feeling.

This resolution was carried with but one dissenting vote, that of Rev. Dr. Has-kins of Los Angeles.

The election of the Standing Committee was then in order, and the following gen-tlemen were declared elected: Revs. R. R. Foute, H. Chestwood, J. Sanders Reed and

and said he would call the attention of his reverend brothers to the remarkable photographs of the officers of the convention that reminded him of a story of two German girls who, wishing to have a portrait of their dead mother, went to an artist and asked him to paint a picture of their mother from their description. He con-sented, and when they saw the result exclaimed: "Ah! that's our mother, but oh! how changed she is." The convention adjourned at 12:45 P. M.

President Valentine is authority for the statement that 149 molders are now idle, although when the strike commenced 186 men walked out. Lakeport Land Case. LAKEPORT, May 8th .- The suit of Estep vs. Armstrong in ejectment to recover about 200 acres of land, upon which about half the town is built, was decided in favor of Armstrong. There is much rejoicing among property-owners, and they are celebrating the event by firing anvils.

Armstrong bought this land of the executrix of the Estep estate in 1875, and paid for it, and has had peaceable possession of it ever since. Last fall Miss Kittie Estep's friends persuaded her she had an interest.

G. of the Chamango county buildings, located thapman of Rosedale, a small town in at Preston, near Norwich, were burned at this county, started to walk from Santa Monica up the coast to Ventura county. During the three days that the men had nothing to eat they covered about seventy-five miles. One of Mr. Willard's sons is in a precarious condition.

Anti-Irrigationists. Colusa, May 8th.—The meeting of the new Board of Directors of the Colusa Irrigation District held to-day for the organization of the Board was one of unusual interest to this community for the reason that a majority of the new Directors are anti-irrigationists, and action to retard the work of irrigation was anticipated.

Senator John Beggs, as the leader of the anti-irrigationists on the Board, nominated E. G. Morton for President and J. W. Goad for Secretary. The action is much deplored by the people here, as it means obstruction to irrigation in this district for the next two years. Weaverville, May 8th.—Henry Meckel, of the firm of Meckel Brothers, brewers of Weaverville, was drowned in North Fork creek, seventeen miles from here, last evening, while attempting to ford that stream. NICOLAUS, May 8th.—Yesterday morning the steamer Knight, No. 2, with the barge Nicolaus, loaded with 2,300 sacks of wheat and 200 bales of wool, went through the break in the old levee at Nelson's Point. By strenuous exertions the steamer was hauled out this morning and will proceed to Sacramento for help. The barge is all right yet, but it is doubtful if the cargo can be taken out of the gap. Bodies Recovered. Carson (Nev.), May 8th.—The bodies of Dodge and Jones, two of the three men drowned last week in Washoe lake, were found to-day, one at the north end and the other at the south, badly swollen and partly eaten by fish. The third party has not been found yet. "Snippy," the boatman, says all went down together, but when found they were two miles apart. The bodies were taken to Franktown. Dismissed in Disgrace. SPOKANE FALLS, May 8th.—Alderman Peter Dueber was expelled from the City Council at a regular meeting last night. Many Lives Lost. Utica (N. Y.), May 8th .- A large portion of the Chamango county buildings, located midnight last night, and ten of the inmates, and possibly more, were burned. NORWICH (N. Y). May 8th.-The excitement over the destruction of the Poorhouse and County Insane Asylum this morning is intense. All who had friends among the unfortunate eagerly sought for information regarding their fate.

At the scene of the disaster the stench is sickening. The idiots were locked in and roasted like beasts. Keeper Mainwaring said: "On opening the door leading from the hall to the idiot department, I was thunderstruck to see the interior a mass of flames. I attempted to rescue the poor inmates, who were all securely shut in their cells as usual, but was driven back by the heat and smoke. I saw the idiots were doomed and nothing could save them.

RETURNING TO WORK.

CHICAGO, May 8th.—Building operations were resumed to-day on a basis similar to that which existed before the carpenters' strike. About 3,000 men took up their tools, which were laid down a month ago to-day, and went to work. The late "strike headquarters" were crowded with journeymen who were receiving their working cards. The Arbitration Committee is busily engaged in receiving new members into the association. Among those who joined this morning were five members of the

NEW YORK, May 8th .- Spalding of Chicago, Hawley of Cleveland and O'Neil of Pittsburg held a long secret conference here yesterday. They declined to state the result, but it is known that the ball season, both of the League and the Brotherhood, has not been a succes financially so far, and it is believed that a number of the clubs in both association will have to go to the wall unless something can be done to improve the situation.

An effort will probably be made, if Lady Frances Cook, of London, and Mrs. John Biddulph Martin, formerly the Claffin sisters Tennie and Victoria, go to Illinois, to have them arrested on the charge of manslaughter, which dates back twenty-six years, and originated from the practice of the sisters at that time of "curing by the laying on of hands." FLAT CONTRADICTION. Speaker Reed should not endeavor to the Southern press. For instance, he recently declared that it is a matter of curon election days. Certainly this is accepted as truth by those who claim to be well informed. Mr. Reed was justified in the expression by the New Orleans States, a responsible and widely influential Democratic newspaper, for it recently said: "The people of Mississippi do not steal or rob ballot-boxes, as General Chalmers has charged, but they do suppress the negro vote, and this fact they make no effort to conceal." The Charleston News and Courier, about the same time, less than a year ago, said: "We are appalled at gain and brought an action for a decree of thinking that the rising generation of divorce. In his letter recounting his dowhite men at the South is being taught that elections are to be carried, not by the honest vote of a fair majority, but by rank intimidation, subterfuge and evasion." The Columbia Register quoted that expression and added: "We have carried this sort of thing as far as it can possibly go, and the result is that we are fast getting to be a set of rascals within our party lines, if we have not got there already." Such expressions as these were surely suffiof criticism that is more than bitter. From all along the line he has been called "liar and falsifying politician" to the echo. The Natchez Democrat pronounces his statement to be "a vile slander upon the South," and the News and Courier, from which we have already quoted, jumps upon him with both feet and roars: "Reed's statement is full of willful untruthfulness." Really these gentlemen of the Soutnern press should not be permitted to impeach their own witnesses. Some one ought to interpose an objection to this sort of practice in the court of American

THE LIQUOR DECISION AGAIN.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat fears that the recent liquor decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, which was fully explained and analyzed in these columns a few days ago, is a dangerous one for the doctrine of State rights, and it comes to the conclusion that it amounts to Federal interference with the power of the States to regulate their domestic concerns in any respects where interstate commerce is concerned. The Globe-Democrat

The theory of a strict construction of the Constitution in respect of grants of Federal power is practically discarded in favor of a theory which, to say the least, is a surprising concession to be made by men of Democratic faith and association. It has been understood heretofore that the authority of a State was supreme in the matter of dealing with the liquor traffic, even to the point of absolute and complete prohibition; but this decision upsets that idea in a most pronounced way. There is a hitherto unsuspected Federal power, it tells us, in the constitutional provision with regard to interstate commerce, by which State authority is so limited as to leave room for defeat of almost any form of local restriction of said traffic, in the absence of Congressional warrant for such action.

The decision does not justify any such expression. The right of Congress to regulate commerce between the States is a constitutional provision as old as the doctrine of the fundamental law, that by the States are retained all sovereign rights not expressly vested in the Federal authority for the benefit of the whole people. The doctrine enunciated by the Supreme Court is neither new nor is it subversive of any State right. It simply affirms the right of a citizen to sell his goods by importation into another State at the request of a citizen of the latter. But it is strictly stated that this right does not in any respect in-which the goods come, to subject them to local regulation so soon as they lose their commercial character, and that they do so as soon as they mingle with and become a part of the property in the State. It is not held that the State must confine its regulation to property produced within its borders; there is nothing of the kind in the decision, or any expression warranting such an implication.

THE New York Sun varies its assaults apon the domestic establishment of Mr. Cleveland with agitation for the repeal of the capital punishment law of New York.

But all people do not think that it would be a reform, or that it would tend to greater certainty of conviction of criminals, or that it should be repealed because of the occasional execution of the innocent. The truth is that while there is now and then an innocent man hanged, so, too, there are innocent men imprisoned for life. Human independ is the capital punishment law of New York. justice is not perfect; human judgment is fallible; men do wrong often in the very effort to do right. So that the argument The two wealthiest women in Philadelphia, both widows, are said to be Mrs. Thomas H. Powers and Mrs. Thomas A. that the innocent are sometimes ex- Scott. gether too much sentiment expended over nurderers already. One of the New York Judges from the bench recently uttered words upon the subject that are pregnant with truth, Said Judge Martine:

with truth. Said Judge Martine:

Homicide has come to be about the safest crime for a man to commit. It he wounds his enemy or steals his property he is reasonably sure of receiving severe punishment. But if he kills him he can feel quite confident that some lawyer, some corporation or some individual, full of maudlin sentimentality, will take all possible care that if any human agency can avert such a fate he does not die by the hands of the law. For the slayer there is any amount of sympathy; for the slayed there is none. I do not share in this misdirected sentiment. My sympathy is with the dead, and I am of the opinion that every man who takes the life of another with deliberation and premeditation should pay the forfeit of his life.

IF it is true that an attempt is to be made to revive the old charge of manslaughter against Tennie C. Classin and Victoria Woodhull, now that they have return to this country on a visit, the effort will be discreditable to the movers. The charge originated twenty-six years ago, and grew out of alleged clairvoyant powers of the sisters through which they claimed to heal by the laying on of hands, These two women, at one time notorious for their eccentric and ultra teachings, and the vigor with which they promoted certain "isms," went to England and married well. For many years they have been living there in quiet. They now return on a visit to their native land, and this old charge is revived, probably by enemies, which was once dismissed by a competent Court, for want of prosecution. If there ever was any reason for pushing the charge it should have been given effect long ago. It looks very much now as if its revival is simply a bit of persecution.

GOVERNOR HILL of New York has at last signed a ballot reform bill, and in a long message congratulates the people that a reform ballot law that is constitutional and unobjectionable has been placed upon the statute books. That is precisely what makes it look "queer." If the bill was liable to hurt the pernicious business of the vote-brokers, ticket-peddlers and ward rounders Governor Hill would never have signed it. That conclusion is justified by his entire course concerning ballot reform. The new law provides for a "paster" system, and instead of one official ballot, sends the voter into the polling-booth with both make his speeches tally with the whims of hands full of all the kinds of ballots that political parties and private ambition may suggest. But as the proof of pudding is rent history that fraud and terrorism are in the eating, we must await the trial of practiced over large districts in the South the new scheme. Should it work well it will surprise all who have made a study of the reform system.

> THE educated Chinaman, Lee, who created a social sensation in Eastern society circles a few years ago by marrying an American heiress, has not found the amalgamation theory pleasant in practice. According to his story, his mother-in-law has led him an endless round of misery, and the woman who was so foolish as to mate with a Chinaman has repented of her barmestic troubles the man winds up with the exclamation: "What a fool I was to get married anyhow." But Lee was not half so foolish as was the blinded American girl who chose him for a husband. We might feel some pity for the Mongolian, but not a particle for the miserable woman who is the mother of the two half-breeds that live to testify to her folly.

An International Prison Congress is presently to be held at St. Petersburg, but cient to warrant Speaker Reed in saying it is officially announced that discussion of what he did. But since he made bold to the treatment of convicts in Siberia will utter the words he has become the subject be prohibited. What a farce, then, will the Convention be. The idea of an International Convention of a philanthropic character with a censor, backed by Imperial police, sitting in judgment over its discussions, is one that excites mirth, but it ought to enkindle indignation.

GOVERNOR HILL'S suggestion is that all contested seats in the Legislature of New York should be the subject of settlement in Court, and not by the votes of the body in which the contests arise. It is an excellent idea and it would be wise to adopt it in every State in the Union. As a rule all such contests are decided upon partisan lines, and rarely do the merits of the case have fair examination. THE reported acts of violence on the part of striking molders in San Francisco only serve to weaken the cause of the strikers. The right of the men to strike is undeniable, as much so as the right of the employers to organize in resistance of the strike, but violence by either is lawlessness that the cause of neither side can

MAGGIE VALLE SWALLOWS A DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID.

Deserts Her Dying Mother-A Sad Case.

Poor Maggie Valle lay on one of the low couches at the Receiving Hospital at midnight last night, gasping her last. Her eyes were set with the stare of death, and there were no tender hands to close them when finally the fast-expiring spark of life should go out in darkness. Now and then the jailer would look in, when not occupied with his duties, to see if she was still breathing, and that was all. There was no one to even breathe a prayer for the poor woman as her spirit took its flight from

And yet her own daughter was not half a dozen blocks away, whither she had gone a few hours before with a box containing her mother's hard earned savings, leaving the latter to die alone and unattended, as described.

The poor woman was dying from a dose of deadly carbolic acid, apparently taken with suicidal intent. It appears that Mrs. Valle was formerly the wife of a man named Powers, her present husband—from whom she has been separated for some time—being an employe at the railsome time—being an employe at the rail-road shops. She had lived in this city for some thirty years, it is said, and had, by hard work, secured a little property. Recently a small house belonging to her at Fifth and S streets was burned, on which she had some insurance

Her daughter, aged 16 years, has been living with a Mrs. Shadd at 1513 Fourth street, while Mrs. Valle herself resided street, while Mrs. Valle herself resided with a widow named Smith, at Fourth and S streets, whose husband was formerly a lawyer nere, but died many years ago. The daughter went to see her mather yesterday, but finding her out, went to the site of the burned house and there found her lying in the state of the burned house and there found her side one a barn, with two vials by her side containing some medicine prescribed by a physician, and the other carbolic acid. She came up town and informed Mrs. Schadd that her mother was dead, and the latter sent word to the Coroner. The latter visited the place and finding the woman still alive, notified the Chief of Police. Chief Drew then got a carriage and took Mrs. Valle to the Receiving Hospital and summoned the City Physician. She seemed to be dying, and nothing could be done for her but to make her as comfortable as possible. Mrs. Schadd and the daughter visited the police station, but the latter, say the police, exhibited no feeling of sympathy for her mother. She informed Chief Drew that some time ago her mother told her that if anything happened to her (the mother) she would find a box at Mrs. Smith's containing some money and papers; that as soon as she saw her mother lying in the barn, and supposed her to be dead, she had gone and secured the box and taken it to Mrs. Schadd's. The Chief sent officer Snook with the women to the house to get the box and bring it to the Police Station. When opened it was found to contain $335 in money and some papers of value.

After remaining a little while the women left for their home, although the mother of the younger one lay dying in an adjoining room to the Chief's office, and did not again visit her.

At 1 o'clock this morning the poor woman breathed her last. Captain Lee informed a Record-Union reporter that it was reported that only a ew days ago Mrs. Valle had drawn $1.800 from the Sacramento Bank, and the officers think that if she did it would very likely have been placed in the box with her other money. Whether or not the box had been opened before it was brought to the police station, he offers did not know but the woman said it had not.

Deceased was well known as a industri ons, saving woman, and it is a shame tha she should have been left to die, as she was, with no friend or relative near to do aught to alleviate her sufferings and utter a prayer for her departing spirit.

Quite the ugliest face I ever saw (ol serves Whittier) was that of a woman whom the world called beautiful. Through its "silver veil" the evil and ungentle passions looked out, hideous and hateful. On the other hand, there are faces which the multitude at first glance pronounce homely, unattractive and such as "nature fashions by the gross," which I always recognize with a warm heart-thrill. Not for the world would I have one feature changed; they please me as they are they are hallowed by kind memories and beautiful through associations.

Modern Application. "And so these are tourists bound to the eashore!" said the tired traveler, who couldn't get a seat in the car owing to the pleasant manner in which nearly every passenger monopolized extra seats with bag and baggage. "Do you know that I was thinking they might be relatives of certain other tourists mentioned in the New Testament? They were bound to the seashore, too. You remember it says. The whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea.' The conductor smiled grimly, then pulled his face down and went off sounding the refrain of "Tickets, please."—Boston Trans

PERSONALS.

Carl Miller, of Mendocino City, passed through S. F. recently. He says, "Joy's Vege-table Sarsaparilla entirely cured his liver and kidney trouble."

Rob't I. Barry, Assistan't Superintendent Pullman Palace Car Company, while in Cali-fornia last summer, did not suffer with his usual sick headaches. He gave Joy's Vege-table Sarsaparilla as the preventing agent. John M. Cox lives at 735 Turk St., S. F. He used to be afflicted with sick headaches. He had one attack the day he commenced taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, but none since. They are done.

C. A. Bushnell, of the Murphy Building, Market St., S. F., suffered with indigestion and dyspepsia in its worst form for years, till Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla came to his relief. He now recommends it to everybody similarly afflicted.

Mrs. Dr. J. H. Mason, of No. 1053 Market St., S. F., whose trouble was chronic bilious-ness, says of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. "its action on the liver and kidneys is decided and I am steadily improving." A. W. Bogart is a wholesale shoe manufacturer, at 765 Mission St. S. F. He says, "Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla has given him entire relief from his indigestion and dysamele."

Question of Profit.

No man's wealth is so great that he can afford to pay more for an article than it is worth. The REAL VALUE of a SUIT OF CLOTHES is a small fair profit above the actual cost of production. If an article of merchandise passes from manufacturer to jobber, and from jobber to the merchant, and then on down to the wearer. it naturally follows that several profits, in addition to extra freightage, must be borne by the customer. The secret of our Low-Priced Clothing is: SEVEN-DAY PAPER.

- 1. By buying right. We deal directly with the manufacturers.
- 2. By selling right. Honest, reasonable profits.

The Board of Fducation to Sell the Perry | The Rains Cause a Rise in the River-Seminary for $10,000. The Board of Education held a special Richardson's former position.

For fourth substitute the names of Miss Rosie Inglis, Miss May Wolf, Miss Tillie Ash, Miss Annie Steinfield and Miss Millie Wilcox were proposed. After balloting about twenty-five times, the choice resulted in the selection of Miss Wilcox.

Director Sherburn stated that he wished to make a report regarding the auction sale of the Perry Seminary building. He stated that he obtained a first bid of $7,000 and that it was afterwards raised to $10,100, which offer was made by Siller Bros. There was quite a large attendance at the sale, and Mr. Sherburn said he had tried in several different ways to get a higher bid. He offered only the building at one time, and the highest bid was $300. The lots and the highest bid was $300. The lots were then sold separately, and the prices offered did not aggregate the one sum offered by Siller Bros. Afterwards, however, the latter parties backed out, but John Miller, the undertaker, had told him (Sherburn) that he would give $10,000 for the property, and wanted the Board to consider his offer.

Mr. J. F. Farnsworth, who returned from Newcastle yesterday, reports that the early cherries, now ripening, have been injured by the rains. They are now splitting open, or bursting, and there will be some disappointment experienced in securing sufficient quantities for shipping for some days to come.

Mr. Miller ought to be accepted.

Mr. Senatz said $10,000 was no price for

The other Directors expressed different opinions, and the roll was called on the question as to whether or not the offer be Directors Sherburn, Chipman and Erle-wine voted ave, and Paine, Hopley, Tufts,

Senatz and Davis voted no. It required a unanimous vote of the counted for naught. Director Chipman remarked that he'd never vote again to sell the property as long as he was a member of the Board. The offer which had been made he considered to be a good one, and he thought it very foolish not to accept it. 'I'm like you," said Director Sherburn, "I'll keep that property, too, as long as I After considerable arguing, a motion to reconsider was made by Director Paine, and all voted aye. On roll-call on the question of selling the property, the vote was unanimous in the affirmative, and the Seminary ordered sold. The consent of the Trustees will not There being no further business, the Board adjourned.

THE SUPERVISORS. Light Day's Business Yesterday-A Road

Overseer Called in. At yesterday's session of the Board of Supervisors Mr. Greer offered a resolution, which was adopted, making the penalty for driving a horse faster than a walk over the McCracken bridge at $10, and for carrying more than 20,000 pounds the fine to be $15.

Justice Kennard, of San Joaquin township, was allowed a set of the codes for use On motion of Mr. Greer, the sum $15 87, erroneously assessed to Robert Christiansen in favor of Carroll School District, was ordered refunded to him. The contract and bond of the American Bridge and Building Company, for the erection of the iron water-tank at the County Hospital, was read and approved.

Charles G. Taylor asked the Board who was to pay him for twenty-one days' work in digging a ditch near the old beet-sugar works to drain the county road. He said he had been employed by Road Overseer Warren to do the work, but that the latter declined to audit his bill for more than $2 per day, whereas he (Taylor) furnished and sharpened tools for the work and considered that his work was worth $3 a day. Chairman Ross said that Overseer Warren told him that the work was of no benefit to the county road, and was a private enterprise to drain private lands. Mr. Tebbets said that Warren had, on the contrary, told him the ditch would be

The Clerk was finally instructed to notify Overseer Warren to appear before the Board and explain the matter. The remainder of the day's session was spent in the auditing of claims against the

HOW WE DO THINGS.

Crossings on a Prominent Street Torn Up During a Rain-Storm.

Somebody has caused to be removed the plank cross-walks on O street at Eleventh and Twelfth, for no apparent reason, leaving in their stead deep gullies, which the recent storm has transformed into ditches of mud. Persons living south of O street have had to wade through slush and water for several days past in crossing that thoroughfare at the points named, and loud complaints have been made in consequence. On Wednesday, it is said, a young girl broke one of her legs in one of excavations at Eleventh street, caused by the removal of the planking. Why these walks should have been torn up is a mystery to every person living in that neighborhood. It is true there is talk of having O street graded and graveled, but there hasn't been a pick struck in it from Tenth to Twentieth streets, as yet, and it seems hardly possible that any contractor would have taken it upon himself to tear up the crosswalks long before he commenced his work, and that, too, just upon the approach of a forewarned rain-storm. Whoever was responsible for the removal of the planks should at least have relaid temporary walks until the street dries up a little. For two or three days past it has been almost impossible for ladies to cross O street at Eleventh and Twelfth, and getting on or off street cars has been attended with danger, especially to ladies with infants in

WALLIS' LAST PURCHASE. Some $20,000 Worth of State Library

Books to be Returned. A meeting of the Board of State Library Trustees was held in San Francisco, on Wednesday evening, with Messrs. Stephens, Strother and McClure present, for the purpose of receiving a statement from A. C. Freeman, an ex-Trustee and for some time acting President of the former Board, concerning the purchase of about $20,000 worth of books for the State Library by Talbot H.

Wallis, the Librarian.

These books were ordered during the last month of Mr. Wallis' administration, and, as the Board of Trustees claim, without authority from the President or any member of the Board. They were, moreover, ordered in violation of an order from the Trustees directing the Librarian to receive no books and to purchase none. Wallis was present and admitted that he had purchased the books on his own authority under the Political Code. He said he had not contracted to pay any par-ticular price, as some of the books were rare and had been procured in London at great expense.

Messrs. Doxy & Bancroft said they had furnished the books in good faith, and $6,000 worth of the rare books are now on the way from Europe. After hearing all the facts the Trustees decided to return the books to the sellers.

In the valley the rainfall has been quite general, also along the tributaries of the Sacramento river, as a result of which the latter has begun to boom once more, under the influence of the freshet. TROUBLE ABOUT A HOUSE.

Black Jack" Donovan and "Red Jack" Courtney at Loggerheads. The name of "Black Jack" Donovan appears on the Station-house slate, and opposite it the charge of petit larceny. The causes which led to Donovan's arrest are somewhat peculiar. He owns a small house which stands on a lot in the southwestern suburbs of the city claimed by Eli Mayo. Donovan works on a river steamer, and on her last trip up the river

he was aboard. During his absence "Red Jack" Courtney, one of Donovan's friends, claimed to have a power of attorney to sell the house. and he closed a transaction with Bill Gilson, giving him the shanty for $8. Gilson took possession, but as soon as Donovan eturned there was war in camp.

Gilson was bounced from his newly-pur chased home and given to understand that he bought the house from the wrong man Now he is going to have Donovan and Courtney explain matters in Court.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE.

A Hook and Ladder Truck Overturned-Chief O'Meara Injured. At 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon the proved a very disastrous one occurred on K street, in front of the Golden Eagle Hotel, while the Sixth-street book-and-ladder truck was en route to the fire. Dan Desmond, the tillerman, was driving, and there were three others on the vehicle, including Chief Engineer O'Meara. As the truck swung into K street from Sixth, there was a street car ahead of it, about midway of the block. As soon as ified the property-owners to cleanse it. the driver of the car discovered that the truck was coming up behind he halted his car, as is the custom when the fire engines or trucks are in the vicinity, so as to give hem the right of way. In this instance his stopping was ill-timed, for the driver of the truck had not time to swing across the street, the rear wheels of the latter sliding along the railroad track and bringing the truck in collision with the car.

The collision had the effect of upsetting he truck, which went over on its side upon the granite pavement. The driver was pitched headlong to the ground, as also were Chief O'Meara and the other men riding upon the truck. All escaped injury except the Chief, whose face came in con hack and was driven rapidly to the fire. Afterward he had his wounds dressed and went about his duties as usual.

The well-trained horses attached to the ruck behaved splendidly, making no effort to run away after the accident. Persons who vitnessed the affair expected to see the men who were on the truck picked either dead or badly maimed, and it is really miracilous how they escaped.

In the Police Court yesterday Leon Stillon wealthy Frenchman, was convicted of vagrancy, because it could not be shown that he had any respectable means of support. The evidence was that he kept the ompany of lewd and dissolute persons and ived in and about houses of ill-fame. Stillon, it is claimed, belongs to the class of creatures who live off the earnings of fallen women. The chief prosecuting witless was officer Simmons, who had the fellows' pedigree for several years back. Charge of Kidnaping Dismissed. Yesterday Judge Buckley granted the motion of Mr. Blanchard, counsel for Mrs. Schmeitzer, charged with kidnaping, to have the case dismissed. It was claimed that the order of Court under which Mrs. Schmeitzer's child, Barbetta, remained in the custody of the Ecks, provided that the child might visit her mother twice a year, and that whenever the mother became able to care for her she should be relinquished by the Ecks.

The issues in the case will be settled by Police Court Cases. Ah King was fined $10 in the Police Court yesterday for selling lottery tickets. The cases of Thomas Roddy and Tom Mahone, charged with robbery, were continued until Saturday.

Calvin Irwin was fined $2 50 for carrying concealed weapon.
The case of B. H. Chapman, charged with assault to murder, was continued for the third time. The date set is May 22d.

TWO REPORTS ON ARID LANDS.

Appointment of Officials for Okla-

Majority and Minerity Reports From the synopsis of the Senate majority report on the bill for the irrigation of arid lands: Before giving a detailed account of the investigation of the committee, some igeneral observations and seggestions as to what action should by taken by the Government to enable the people to reclaim and settle upon the arid lands of the United States are submitted. Over two-fifths of the area of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, requires irrigation to insure regular crops, and in at least four-fifths of the arid region irrigation is a necessity for the production thereof. This arid region comprises between 120,000 and 190,000 square miles, being a third larger than that of British India and very similar to it in its general characteristics. The amount of land that may be brought under cultivation of land that may be brought under cultivation in the arid region is variously estimated at from 75,000,000 to 150,000,000 acres.

It is safe to predict at least 10,000,000 acres will ultimately be brought under cultivation by irrigation, and that, too, by water in sight, which, when properly utilized, will reclaim at least 10 per cent. of the whole arid area.

The guestion for consideration is: What action should be taken by the Government to enable the people to reclaim these desert lands? Their reclamation must be initiated and executed by the people and not by the Government.

In India, and in fact in all countries under monarchic or despote rule, the work of irriga-tion has been carried on under Government control, and largely with Government money. The Government of British India has already expended several hundred millions of dollars in constructing irrigation works, and is contin-uing such expenditures on a most magnificent Reports show that the investment has been profitable to the Government and of the greatest possible advantage to the people, but there is no necessity for the United States to engage in such expenditures. If an opportunity is furnished to the people or this country, they will relaim these desert lands, so far as reclamation is necessary. The most important action by the Government in aid of the reclamation of these desert lands was the passage of the Acts of desert lands was the passage of the Acts of desert lands was the passage of the Acts of October 2, 1888, and of March 2, 1889.

By the first of these Acts $199,000 was appropriated for topographic surveys and $100,000 for surveys pertaining to irrigation; $60,000 was diverted by the Director from that purpose and added to the appropriation for topographic surveys, making a sum of $259,000 for topography and leaving only $40,000 for irrigation. weys, making a sum of $259,000 for topography and leaving only $40,000 for irrigation.

By the Act of March 2, 1889, $200,000 was appropriated for topographic surveys, and $250,000 for irrigation surveys. Of the sum appropriated for irrigation surveys $120,000 was directed for irrigation surveys $120,000 was directed for irrigation surveys. verted from that purpose by the Director and added to the $200,000 for topographic surveys, making an aggregate of $320,000 for topographic, and leaving only $130,000 for irrigation surveys, and office and other expenses incidental thereto. VIOLATION OF THE STATUTE.

Your committee regards this as a plain violation of the statute and a misappropriation of money. It has been represented by the Director that a general topographic map of the arid region is necessary for an irrigation survey, and that unless it is made the cost of that survey will be increased manifold. This statement it is impossible to comprehend. is impossible to comprehend. It is, of course, easy to see that such a map would give useful information of a general kind, and would be convenient for many minor purposes, but the engineers, while admitting this, testify with one voice that its useful assessments.

character and cost the same, whether made of maps or not, and that no use has been made of any topography by any of the engineers engaged in the irrigation survey except as a general map of the country.

A provision was inserted in the Act of October 2.1888, which is working a great hardship to the people of all the arid States and Territories. tories. It was necessary to reserve all the lands which may hereafter be designated or selected by such United States surveys for sites for reservoirs and ditches or canals for irrigation

As matters now stand, no entries can be made or titles perfected to any public lands of the United States requiring irrigation. Attention is called to this fact to show the importance of action on Senate bill 2104, as reported from this UNAPPROPRIATED WATERS.

The bill reserves the unappropriated waters of lakes and rivers on public lands for such beneficial purposes as shall be determined by the States and Territories where such waters are situated, subject only to the paramount authority of the United States. It reserves the right of way for ditches, canals and other hydraulic works for irrigation purposes, and allows the flowing to be diverted from their natural beds upon the arid areas.

It also reserves to the United States the administration of the control of the desired of the control of th judication of all questions that may arise in re-lation to storage conservation, flowing and dis-tribution of all natural waters located at the boundary of States or Territories. It repeals all laws for the sale of lands where irrigation is necessary, except the mineral and homestead-

The bill a so confers the power upon the Commissioner of Irrigation to regulate the amount of land which may be taken in a given locality homestead settlers, not exceeding 160 acres further provides that when reservoirs, canal: and other hydraulic works shall have been completed so as to irrigate all the land in a given district, patents may be issued to claimants of public lands in such district upon compliance with the laws in force at the time the claims were made. And also provides that when an irrigation district is formed in any State or Teritory, and the laws of such State or Teritory permit, legal voters residing in such district may tax the land of the State and of private individuals for the purpose of constructing such hydraulic works as are for the common benefit of all irrigable lands in such district nefit of all irrigable lands in such district, ALL LANDS MAY BE TAXED.

United States lands therein shall bear the same burdens as are imposed on State lands and the lands of private persons, and homestead settlers who take such lands with irrigation works constructed for their reclamation shall take them subject to the payment of the same charges as have been paid by private parties for the same purpose; provided, that the amount of such taxes shall be approved by the Commissioner of Irrigation, and that the United States shall not in any case be liable for any of such charges. It further provides that the people of a district situated in two or more States or in a State and Territory may have the benefits of this Act by the joint action of all the States and Territorities in which any pornion of such district is d States lands therein shall bear th by the joint action of an the states and Terri-torities in which any portion of such district is situated, or in case any of the States or Terri-tories refuse to join, then the State or Territory in which a large portion of the irrigable land is situated may perform all the acts necessary to enable legal voters to reclaim lands and secure the benefits of the Act. the benefits of the Act. TRANSFERRED TO RUSK'S DEPARTMENT.

The committee, believing that irrigation pertains to agriculture, and not to geology and other subjects under charge of the Director of the Geological Survey, and differing from the Director as to the mode of conducting such mat-ters as relate to irrigation, has provided for the transfer of the irrigation survey to the Agricul trainer of the frigation survey to the Agricultural Department, and the appointment or a Commissioner of Irrigation in that department.
The passage of the bill, it is believed, will enable bona fide-settlers and land-owners to develop the arid region by their united efforts. It

It also prevents the delay which would be occasioned by waiting for the expenditure of many millions of dollars in geologic and topographic surveys and in paleontologic, chemical and physical researches under the Director of the Geological Survey, and also avoids the embarrassment which would be imposed upon irrigation by charging to it the expenditures made by the Director of the Geological Survey for other purposes.

MINORITY REPORT. Senators Reagan, Gorman and Jones Arkansas say that, finding themselves un-able to agree with the majority of the Senate Committee on Arid Lands, they submi a minority report. An analysis of the bill effect of each section is pointed out. The sections may here be characterized sum-

Section 1 of the bill provides for the survey of arid lands into natural irrigation districts. Section 2 provides for the segregation of irrigable lands. Section 3 provides that lands already irrigated shall be declared irrigable for purposes contemplated in the bill. Section 4 provides that certain of the irrigation works shall be constructed only on sites designated and reserved therefor, in order to protect water rights and to conserve waters for beneficial purposes.

Section 5 provides for the division of waters among districts. Section 6 provides for the organization of districts situated in two or more states or Territories. Section 7 provides that non-irrigable lands shall remain in the posses. realization of districts situated in two or more states or Territories. Section 7 provides that non-irrigable lands shall remain in the possession of the General Government, as forests and pasturage reservations, and batchment areas for irrigable lands, but it provides for the disposal of irrigable lands, but it provides for the disposal of irrigable lands, but it provides for the distance of 600 miles, mit tracts not greater than eighty acres. Section 18 makes it unmandered in the holograph system of flashes and sof irrigable lands. Section 19 makes it unmandered irrigation districts. Section 10 provides in general terms a plan for the organization of irrigation districts. Section 11 gives to the Commissioners of 1,000 miles in Arizona and New Mexico. It is used quite extensively in the British Army and by some other loreign powers. Besides filling a long-felt want in the army movements on the plains, it will probably be adopted for transmitting election returns from the back communities.

TWO REPORTS ON ARID LANDS.

The general statutes are to be made by the States and districts. General statutes are to be made by the States and specific rules by the districts. Therefore, it will accomplish local self-government in relation to irrigation and forest and pasturage administration. It relieves the General Government of all subsequent legislative administrative duties, except only to complete the irrigation survey of the whole and a survey of the irrigation survey of the whole and a survey of the irrigation of the survey has expended a portion of the funds for necessary topographic work as part of the irrigation survey. This is strictly in compliance with the statute. The present irrigation survey will cost $7,000,000. The funds in making maps it will save $1,000,000 to the geological survey will cost $7,000,000, to the geological survey. Thus the real cost of an irrigation survey is but $3,000,000 over and above the cost of a geological survey. geological survey.

CONGRESSIONAL. IN THE SENATE.

Washington, May 8th.—Mitchell presented a petition relative to Oregon's Indian depredation claims, and made a short speech calling attention to the fact that the committee having charge of these claims had as yet made no report on any of them. He urged them to do so.

Stewart, from the select Committee on Irrigation of Arid Lands, presented the majority report and introduced a resolution authorizing the printing of 60,000 copies of it.

Reagau presented a minority report, and also asked that it be printed. He introduced a bill as a substitute for the majority bill.

Hiscock introduced a bill to establish the Grant Memorial Home at McGregor, N. Y.

At 12:30 Merrill-called up the Lingley House bill to classify all worsted cloths as woolen. He took the floor, explained the objects of the bill and c'aimed that the present classification of worsteds had almost destroyed the wool industry of the Middle States.

Gray took the floor and opposed the passage of the bill.

The debate continued at length, Vest supporting Gray in opposition to the bi.l, while Morrill and Aldrich leplied.

The lingley bill, to classify worsted, passed. Consideration of the silver bill was postponed until Monday.

The pension appropriation bill, appropriating for the next-fiscal year $97,090,761, was taken up.

Amendments were offered by Sherman and Washburn to increase the number of pension agents from eighteen and twenty to twenty-one, which gave rise to a long discussion. As a vote disclosed the absence of a quorum, the Senate adjourned.

Disgraceful Proceedings at an Exclusive Club Ball. Washington, May 8th .- The 400 of Washington are excited over the disgraceful orgies that were enacted at a ball given at a suburban club which is one of the country, Champagne flowed like water. The majority of the men threw off all restraint and acted in a manner that might have done for a stag party. The ringleader in the orgies was a handsome and accomplished young secretary of the legation representing one of the leading courts of Europe. He was very hilarious, and insisted on dancing a ballet on his own hook. It is said that when some of the women expressed their displeasure and talked of going home, the young secretary to be very steady on his feet, and after alighting on the wax floor he slipped and fell, striking his head. For several minutes he was unconscious. Several young women screamed. One, the daughter of a high official who has lately come to Washington, and therefore not accustomed to the gayeties of Washington life, demanded that her carriage be sent for, and threatened if she were not permitted to depart terrible consequences would ensue. The privilege was accorded her, and several other women followed her example. Some of their escorts were in no condition to accompany them. One young woman told her father, and t is understood that he called at the legation to which the Secretary is attached and told the Minister that if his Secretary was not recalled by his Government he would proceed to make trouble. Since then the Secretary has spoken of a contemplated trip abroad which would prevent his apearance at Newport.

The Bill Now Before the Spanish Cortes Will Likely Pass. London, May 8th.—Senor Pedrigal, who presents the curious anomally, especially for such a country as Spain, of being a financier and an enemy of the established monarchy under which he lives, does not think that the disturbances in Barcelons and other places will have a disastrous effect upon the fate of the universal suffrage bill now before the Spanish Cortes. He hinks that the bill will probably become a law before the recess of the Cortes in July. The affiliation of the civil guard with the strikers in Barcelona is a sign of the times, out one which would be more significant i it had taken place in a more conservative ommunity. Barcelona is the only really enlightened and progressive city in Spain, but its increasing wealth has made it the envy of other municipalities, and conservative leaders will not fail to take advantage of provincial jealousies.

His latest appearance in the role of a butt is consequent upon his writing a protest against the theatrical adaptation of a story of the divorce of the Empress Josephine and the first Napoleon, which has been made by a comparatively unknown dramatist, a lady of small fame as a playwright. MADERA, May 8th.—The rain yesterday and last night was a welcome visitation to the grain-growers and vineyardists in this locality, and the effect will be a great increase in the wheat crop. The rainfall amounts to .50 of an inch. The only damage that will result is to falowed barley and hay. This will be offset twenty-fold by the benefit to the late grain, as the rain and cool weather will renew the growth and allow it to mature. EMPHATIC DENIAL. Dr Blood Says Sawtelle's Statements are Malicious. DOVER (N. H.), May 8th .- County Attorney Kinel has received a letter from Dr. Charles T. Blood in which Blood says that he can prove Sawtelle's confession, as far as relates to him, to have been a malicious attempt at injury, unwarranted by fact. Blood denies absolutely that he was in company with Isaac Sawtelle at any time during the month prior to the murder, and will take his oath that he was not in New Hampshire when the murder was committed, and says he can produce witnesses to establish the fact that he was not even in New England.

Dr. Blood has been in retirement in this ity near the Canadian line, and the reason ne did not appear after the murder was that the chances were too great of spending summer in jail while awaiting the Grand Jury's action.

Blood expresses his willingness to come to Dover and give testimony before the Grand Jury, or make a deposition of the statements concerning which he can testify. The referee in the case of the Peole of the State of New York against Edward Henry Kent, now visiting San Francisco, has ordered Kent's removal as President of the Mutual Benefit Life Association of America. The Germans are to take the initiative in ouilding forts in East Africa, and the British are aghast at their promptness and foresight.
